

Mini-symposium Friends of AviAssist. 20 November, Amsterdam, the Netherlands

Friends of AviAssist supports the work of the AviAssist Foundation. It works hard to promote the highest possible standards in aviation safety in Africa. It does so by recruiting professional volunteers from the Netherlands and beyond to work alongside their African colleagues in promoting aviation safety as resources and trainers. On top of that, Friends of AviAssist raises funds from the membership fees and from grants to support AviAssist Foundation programs.

Friends of AviAssist will host its second networking conference on the Wednesday November 20th, with an interesting line up of speakers and a presentation on the valuable work of the AviAssist Foundation.

This conference is free, also for non-members.

Speakers include:

- Ron Louwerse, Chairman of the AviAssist board, Director Rotterdam The Hague Airport;
- Tom Kok, Director Aviassist;
- Hellen Ndichu, Board member AviAssist, Director Safety Rwandair;
- Ashlesh Baichoo, Aviation Section United Nations, Tombouctou, Mali;
- Sebina Muwanga, Air Transport Regulation Consultant, Kampala, Uganda;
- Jules Kneepkens, Teasas Aviation Training Academy;
- Gwen Dudok van Heel, AviAssist volunteer trainer – leadership development, Dudok Consulting;
- Frank Klap, AviAssist volunteer trainer – human factors & organizational development, Plane Language;
